"Use Lights" Police Urge

"Turn those lights on in time," urged Lieutenant John deWinter, Director, Division of Traffic and Safety, Maine State Police. "Remember," he cautioned, "it is just as important that you be seen, as it is for you to see. This weekend we return to Standard Time. That means that many of us will be driving home from work in the dusk. We have been accustomed to do this without turning on the headlights. Habit is strong. We must not allow this sudden transition to catch us unawares. Make a conscious effort to remember that 'Times have changed' and that we now need the protection of lights in the late afternoon hours."

LARGE SHARE OF HUNTING ACCIDENTS RESULT OF YOUNGSTERS' CARELESSNESS

Human casualties and the carelessness which caused them during last fall's open season on game have been boiled down to cold statistics by Maine Hunting Accident Inspector, Myron Marshall.

Marshall released some of these figures as follows: Age groups involved. Twelve accidents were caused by boys up to 15 years old, nine by boys 15 to 21, and 44 by men 21 to 70 years old. About 195, then, by boys less than 15 years old, yet this group is a small percentage of total number of hunters.

"During the past four years, this group has caused about 15% of our accidents," Marshall said. "I have found very few cases caused by boys in this group when accompanied by a parent or guardian."

Marshall continued: "It may be interesting to note that, although mistaking humans for game is our biggest single cause of hunting accidents, we have no record of a boy in this age group having mistaken a human being for game."

Marshall said a large number of these boys have been found to be hunting without a license.

He pointed out that while few parents permit their 10 and 12-year-old sons to take the family car out on the highway, many do not hesitate to allow the same boy to go hunting. "I believe a gun can prove as lethal as a car, in the hands of youngsters," Marshall stated.

Maine's Hunting Accident Inspector pointed out that the Department of Fisheries and Game sends a warden into the schools to talk on safety and has cooperated in the Maine Fish and Game Association camp at Branch Pond, annually. He urged individual clubs to sponsor safety-instruction projects for youngsters whenever possible.

A pack meeting of the Bethel P. T. A. will be held Friday, Oct. 3, together with a supper. Induction ceremony for new Cubs will be held.

Heavy-Duty Roads Like Romans' Via

THE POUNDING destruction of heavy traffic on modern highways has caused the revival of some of the basic engineering principles used 2,000 years ago in construction of the famous roads of ancient Rome.

Most renowned road in the Roman system, which at its peak totaled some 50,000 miles, was the 412-mile Via Appia (Appian Way) leading from Rome southward to Brundisium (modern Brindisi) and its port of Hydruntum (Otranto), in the heel of the Italian boot.

A recent survey by American engineers showed that the Appian Way is in better condition than many modern highways and streets. In other parts of the ancient Roman empire traces of once fine roads can be found—in Britain's Scottish border to Egypt and Syria.

The Roman roads owed much of their longevity and quality to careful, painstaking construction and to the engineering principles of building extremely deep, heavy foundations. Some of the roads are more than 40 inches from their base of large, hand-laid and fitted stones to the top of the pavement. Breakup of this pavement under heavy traffic led engineers back to the Roman theories. But now great machines do everything from basic excavation to final finishing. In Roman times the work was done by hand, with slave and military labor. Foundation and surface paving blocks were laboriously fitted together.

It would probably cost more than $500,000 a mile to reproduce the hand-built Roman road today.

The excellent basic construction principles of the Roman roads are returning to use, but either features would rule the ancient highways out for modern traffic. Because they were used largely by foot soldiers and comparatively slow moving wagons and chariots, some grades were extremely steep—much too steep for easy negotiation by modern wheeled vehicles.

What Do You Read?

In times like the present, as always, the type of reading matter in your home is of extreme importance. You can fill your tables and bookshelves with entertaining trash or interesting informative periodicals for about the same cost. With the great number of excellent magazines that are available, one may obtain the highest grade of reading matter at reasonable expense.

Here is the point where the services of a subscription agency come in. Any reputable agency can offer additional service which adds nothing to your periodical investment. As in everything else, service and fair prices are desirable.

Service may well come first as your magazine money may as well be thrown away if issues are delayed or not received at all. Our 40 years of subscription experience assure our customers of prompt adjustment of all subscription troubles. This service of course cannot be given on subscriptions not forwarded by us.

In our latest magazine list are hundreds of the more popular publications, showing the special two and three year rates and Christmas gift subscription rates. More than this, we can quote prices on many more periodicals including technical and trade magazines. At all times we will meet any low price offer you may receive if you give us the advertising matter on the special price.

Call, write or phone for our money saving list.

"I REMEMBER" BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Miss Pearl Mincey, Harwood, Texas: I remember the back my father used to drive. He burnt candles for lights. They were enclosed in glass to protect the flame from the wind. They were used on buggies.

From Mrs. Rose Ramser, Griffith, Ind.: I remember when my brother swallowed a two-cent piece. So we fed him mashed potatoes every time he was hungry.

From Amelia Doctor, Denver: I remember when women wore long, heavy black veils at the funerals of close relatives, and the men wore a black crepe band on their hats and coat sleeves. Black clothes were worn for a whole year after the death of a member of the family.

From Mary Karch, Lakeview, Ohio: I remember when father used to get the auger and some hollowed-out spigots. He would tap the maple or sugar trees, and we boiled the sap down into a delicious maple syrup. We used the sweetened water to make delicious sassafras tea.

From Sam Williams, Fairmont, W. Va.: I remember when palm leaf fans were used to keep the air stirring in churches and at public gatherings.

From Mrs. Fannie Lester, Ringgold, La.: I remember when people wanted to paint their faces they went to the woods and got a bud off of a red oak bush, mashed it and used it for face rouge. There were no beauty parlors. When mother wished to dye some cloth, she boiled red oak bark and put coppers in it to set it. It made a dull blue.

By LYNN CONNELLY

BOB HOPE, already a household name a number of full TV stars, is being paid for a five-week daytime radio series as well. It depends partly on how well he does to work that hard. . . . The readings from the Bible by Charles Laughton for radio viewers appear nearly set, with the actor scheduled to start the series in time for the Christmas broadcast. . . . NBC has passed Tony Martin and Marguerite Piazza for a musical contest due to take the air this autumn. . . . TV times of the coronation of Queen Elizabeth will be distributed here by British producers in an attempt to crack the U.S. market.

Margaret Truman cut her European trip short in order to be back in time for another appearance on the Jimmy Durante show this month. . . . CBS may do a film report of a network telecast of last winter, in which Adlai Stevenson matched wits with the Quiz Kids.

The work of H. G. Wells and Mark Twain have been acquired for television. . . . Several replacements are being considered for the aging Fred Allen in the new quiz show the comedian was slated for in the fall. . . . Herb Shiner and Ray Bolger are the leading candidates for the spot.

IDOL CHATTER

Robert Young has solved the problem of how to do a weekly broadcast while touring the country in a stage play. . . . He files the cast to where he's appearing and puts the show on tape. . . . A survey just completed shows that since the advent of TV, 3,359 film theatres have closed their doors. . . . Will Rogers, Jr., who had to be coaxed to do the movie story of his famous father, and then agreed to make it only if he was not annoyed further by movie producers, has suddenly done an aboutface. . . . He's reported signed for a TV film deal, with other film jobs pending. . . . The greasepaint in his blood was just too much for him.

Doug Fairbanks, Jr. has organized his own video production company abroad, with NBC contracting as the outlet here for Doug's offerings. . . . ABC TV is considering a unique sports series.

STOWAWAY . . . Patricia Kassel, Los Angeles, was not allowed to land in England after stowing away aboard the Queen Mary. Her father wired passage money and advised keeping her on ship.

FACES DEPORTATION . . . P.F.C. Ernest Ebner, Ridgeway, N.J., serving with U.S. signal corps in Korea, faces deportation from America upon his discharge. He entered army as a check with a three-months visa in the U.S.

The great physiologist, Claude Bernard, in 1841 determined scientifically that sugar is more rapidly available for energy than any other common food.

WORTH REPEATING

"What can accurately be said about the typical family of 1950 (and since) is that it cannot raise, perhaps not even maintain, its standard of living and nearly as its high dollar income would seem to promise." - Christian Science Monitor.

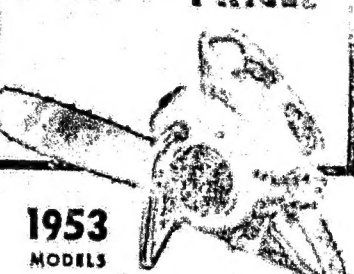

It's getting harder and harder to support the government in the style to which it has become accustomed." - The Front Line.

"With taxes what they are, one doesn't have to pass a civil service examination to work for the government - we all found that out March 15th." - Andover (Mass.) Townsman.

Darkness comes earlier now. State Police warn us to watch for children in the streets at dusk. As hours of darkness increase with the coming of fall, traffic deaths through "Dark" let darkness kill!

"The basic and supporting truths which the Founding Fathers declared to be self-evident are now denied or forgotten. Strict constitutional limitations notwithstanding, American government, which the Founding Fathers narrowly limited to the purpose and object of securing and protecting the unalienable God-given rights of man, has now spread itself into an all-purpose, masterful appliance that is no longer responsible to the people but assumes to be responsible for them." - Clarence E. Manion, Dean Notre Dame University, College of Law.

EASY DOES IT

A METHOD which is generally safe as well as successful for removing oil and grease spots from the basement floor, especially when they're fresh, uses dry Portland cement for covering. Let remain for several hours and the cement will absorb the oil.

Knotty pine, when finished properly, improves with age. A tawny finish is achieved by applying a light oak stain, followed with a thin coat of beige paint while it's still wet. When the wood is dry, finish in the usual way with wax, rubbed well.

Use soap and water to clean the garden hose, as dirt will deteriorate the rubber. If stubborn spots remain, sponge with dry cleaning fluid and wipe dry.

While lead paint is good for sealing top and bottom edges of storm doors. If left unprotected by paint, moisture will rot the wood. Make certain the paint is dry before hanging the doors.

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Cheese Meringue Potatoes
(Serves 6)
4 tablespoons butter or substitute
2 cups mashed potatoes
2 eggs, separated
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
Paprika
1/2 cup hot milk
1/2 cup grated processed cheese
Add butter, egg yolks, salt and pepper to potatoes. Add milk and beat well. Pile into buttered baking dish and cover with meringue made by beating egg whites stiff and folding in cheese. Sprinkle with paprika. Bake in a moderately hot (375° F.) oven for about 10 minutes.

Adhesive paste is used for gluing plastic base door flex. Have all surplus paste work out after laying and wipe off paste as it's more difficult to remove once it dries. If it has dried, use alcohol or some floor cleaner.

If you have copper accessories, make them shine and gleam with the following treatment: dissolve ordinary table salt in vinegar, letting the liquid take as much acid as possible. Rub copper pieces with this mixture and buff with a dry cloth.

If garden furnishings have rust spots on them, rub with oil and let stand overnight. Wipe off oil, then rub down the spots with sandpaper, emery cloth or steel wool.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

FREEDOM MAKES THE DIFFERENCE

WHEN A PEOPLE TRADE THEIR BIRTHRIGHT OF FREEDOM FOR SO-CALLED "SECURITY," THEY HAVE BOUGHT THEMSELVES A MESS OF POTTAGE. EXCEPT BY THE WILL OF THEIR RULERS, THEY CAN BE SECURE NEITHER IN THEIR HOMES, THEIR WORK, THEIR PRESENT NOR THEIR FUTURE—AND HISTORY PROVES THAT THE WILL OF RULERS IS A WEAK REED TO LEAN UPON.

BUT WHEN A PEOPLE HAVE CHERISHED THAT BIRTHRIGHT:

—WHETHER IT BE MATERIAL SECURITY OR THAT OF THE SPIRIT, FREE PEOPLE HAVE MORE OF IT THAN THOSE WHO ARE NOT FREE DARE DREAM OF.

Luscious, golden pineapple lends irresistible flavor and eating goodness to meat loaf.

Looking for something different and delicious to serve for dinner tonight? Then, try this easy-to-do hamburger loaf, glorified with bright, sunny pineapple slices so it looks like your favorite upside down cake. You'll find that pineapple adds a wonderful fruity flavor to the meat, and excellent texture contrast. There's also an economy angle since the pineapple helps to make smaller meat portions more satisfying.

Thanks to a bountiful harvest, pineapple is back in good supply now and you can get all five types—slices, chunks, tidbits, crushed and juice, ready to serve as is, and in dozens of tempting salads, casseroles, and puddings. Pineapple juice, for example, is easily stored requires no refrigeration, and makes an ideal breakfast beverage because it's not too sweet, not too sharp. For variety, add a cup of crushed tomato juice to two cups pineapple juice and shake well together. If you like a decided tangy flavor, add a dash of lemon or, treat the family to sliced bananas topped with pineapple juice instead of cream.

PINEAPPLE HAMBURGER LOAF

1 pound ground beef, cut in small cubes
1 cup onion, chopped fine
1 egg
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup pineapple slices
1/2 cup tomato juice
1/2 cup ketchup
1/2 cup Worcestershire sauce
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup salt
1/2 cup pepper

Place bread cubes in mixing bowl, add milk, and allow to stand 2 or 3 minutes. Add egg, chopped onion, and seasonings, and mix well. Add meat and blend thoroughly. Cut pineapple slices in half crosswise and arrange in a row in the bottom of a loaf pan. Pile meat mixture on top of pineapple. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) for one hour, invert on serving platter to serve. Serves 6.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Coateville, Pa., Record: "We, too, are anxious to see citizens have their costs reduced, but we have yet to find a satisfactory answer to the question: 'Why should the owners of rental properties make up the only group forced to take a licking?' We might ask just what costs, which the landlord must meet, have been kept down to the figure in effect when rentals were frozen?"

Corvallis, Oregon, Gazette-Times: "The Tax Foundation, a non-profit private organization, in a study of the extent and effects of Federal aid, points out how the states are getting into the habit of taxing and taxing and spending and spending, in order to take advantage of the grants from the Federal government. It's a vicious vise with the taxpayer caught fast between."

most all of the people of the United States have an indirect stake in the success of the business and industrial concerns of the nation through ownership of life insurance."

Inflation can be curbed if private spending is reduced by self-restraint, by courageous taxation, or by increased savings.

"I REMEMBER"
BY THE OLD TIMERS

From Mrs. Wilber F. Brand, Fairmont, W. Va.: I remember when every family had three or four candles moulds and the people made their own candles out of mutton tallow.

From Adam Harder, St. Louis, Mo.: In the days of yore, at darning, butchering, or cane mashing time, the neighbors would all gather at your home and help with the work without a thought of pay. And the wife rode on the platform as the old gray mare pulled the beam of the cane mill.

From E. B. Meredith, Fairmont, W. Va.: I remember when children were born in the home, when washing was done on a washboard, when father dealt with "problem boys" in the washhouse when quilting parties, hickory bees, taffy pulling and serenades provided entertainment.

From Michael Hammond, Troy, N.Y.: I remember when the lay half-dime was in circulation. It was worth the same as the nickel. But people then would rather have a nickel than a half dime.

From the Rev. William F. Thompson, Berne, N.D.: I remember when we went on an errand to a neighbor's house, if we found someone standing there with a ladder in a jar, we had to take hold of the ladder and use it for a few times, for if we didn't we would take the ladder away with us. That's as in Ireland.

NEW ENGLAND TUBERCULOSIS CONFERENCE AT PORTLAND

The New England Tuberculosis Conference, which includes in its membership persons interested and active in tuberculosis control from health departments, sanatoria, tuberculosis and health associations and medical practice, is meeting in Portland, Sept. 24-26. It is reported by the Maine Tuberculosis Association, host organization to the Conference.

"The tuberculosis patient—what he thinks, what he feels and what he needs—is the central theme of the Conference," it was stated by E. P. Wells, Assistant, executive secretary of the Maine Tuberculosis Association.

The Conference is planned around the individual problems of persons with tuberculosis and will consider in order: the patient from diagnosis to sanatorium admission, from sanatorium admission through discharge, from discharge through re-employment, and a concluding session to determine the desired course of future action and gramming," Wells said.

The Conference will also include on September 25 a special medical program of physicians which will include discussions on the medical aspects of current therapy in tuberculosis by Dr. Gordon M. Meade, Medical Director, Trudeau Sanatorium, Trudeau, New York; the surgical approach in the treatment of tuberculosis by Dr. Otto C. Brantigan, Professor of Thoracic Surgery, University of Maryland, Baltimore, and the practical application of pulmonary function tests by Dr. Edward A. Gaensler, Assistant Visiting Surgeon, Thoracic Surgery and Research Fellow in Medicine, Thorndike Memorial Laboratory, Boston City Hospital.

Following a special luncheon for the doctors attending, a clinical X-ray session will be conducted at which unusual and interesting X-ray films will be presented for discussion and diagnosis. The three visiting physicians will be joined by the following Maine doctors to create a panel of experts during the session: Doctors, G. E. C. Logan, Joseph E. Porter, Jack Spencer, all of Portland, and George E. Young, Skowhegan.

The Conference is sponsored by the state tuberculosis and health associations of the six New England states.

"October is the best time to buy a car," said I. Goss, secretary of the Maine Drivers' Legal Requirements Association, that they may avoid rush near the end of the year.

"This semi-annual inspection required by the Motor Vehicle Bureau," continued Mr. Goss, "means that every owner or lessee of a vehicle registered on the highways must submit such vehicle for inspection and proper adjustment of the following: brakes, lights, wheels, tires, horn, mechanical windshield wipers, view mirrors, reflectors."

"Plan now for an official inspection," included Secretary Goss, "that you get a thorough check of these items, before a sticker is placed on your license."

LEAVES MAKE HAZARDOUS W

"Danger! Wet!" The above warning by Lieutenant John J. Reardon, Division Safety, Maine State Police, is a colorful reminder to drivers to be careful when driving on a road which can be hazardous.

"Drive over leaves," said Reardon, "and you may lose control of your car. As they are caught under the wheels, they are a very real driving hazard."

It is reported that the Maine State Police have purchased a new field car in Portland, which was recently supplied by Mr. and Mrs. Harris and family.
